DIGGIN' SYDNEY

VINYL LOVERS' TOUR GUIDE

➔ DIGGERS LEGEND:  SECONDHAND VINYL LP/EP/45  NEW VINYL / CDs / DVDs ★ BOOKS / MUSIC RELATED & MORE

Touring record stores is a great way to see a city. This guide is put together with that in mind and uses Sydney's CBD as a starting point. You'll also find some useful transport tips under all the regional subheadings. For those shops further afield, a day trip may be in order, but hey, the promise of a crate at the end of the rainbow might just be enough to tip the scales in favour of an adventure!

SYDNEY (CBD)

Starting smack bang in the middle of Sydney's CBD you'll find Red Eye Records behind the Queen Victoria Building. From here you have two options: South from Town Hall you're just a short walk from Utopia, Fish Fine Music and Lawson's Records where you will find yourself in the bustling Asia-Towns. Here you can feast mightily, buy worldly groceries, fashion, tech; you name it. North you have Birdland and Mojo Record Bar. This will place you in the vicinity of Circular Quay, from where you can take ferries to all sorts of great places around greater Sydney, including the stunning journey out to Parramatta's Beatdisc, and Manly's Desire.

EASTSIDE

Just to the east of the CBD – across Hyde Park – is East Sydney. Indie, arty and chock full of creatives and great food. It's kinda like Sydney's Melbourne, except that the Inner West can also claim to have that excellent vibe (albeit further from city). So just across the parks or up the hill from China Town to get to a 4km-long ridge of indie retail, food, drink, night spots and boutique hotels.

Head up Oxford Street from the South-East corner of Hyde Park. Just a couple of blocks up Oxford, turn right into Crown Street to get to the Record Store and Suzie Q's in Surry Hills, or go a little further east along OxSt and turn left on Darlinghurst Road (just after Taylor Square) to get you to Radio Free Alice and Grand Days (which is just near the Coke sign in Kings Cross).

NORTHERN BEACHES

Sydney's North is loosely divided by Middle Harbour into the North Shore and the Northern Beaches. The Northern Beaches are a little tricky to get to seeing as how there is no train line and so a bus or ferry you'll have to take or the traffic you'll have to brave. This is, however, an excellent day trip and buses and ferries are frequent; then again you could always book an overnight stay up that way because the Northern Beaches are one of Sydney's beautiful natural wonders.

NEWTOWN

Only a couple of train stops from the Sydney CBD and just beyond the University of Sydney is Newtown, the gateway to Sydney's Bohemian heart: the Inner West. Newtown's main drag, King Street, has a fantastic cluster of record shops around the station – you can walk in almost any direction and find yourself a vinyl retailer! The area is replete with antique, fashion and eccentric retail shops along with many, many food options.

INNER WEST

While not as central as the Newtown cluster, the Inner West shops are all well worth a visit. Just a few bus stops down Parramatta Road you'll find the Vintage Record just up from the Annandale Hotel. One step further and just 5 minutes down the road from Sydenham train Station and you are in bustling Marrickville: one of Sydney's best foodie suburbs. This is the home of RPM Records Posters & Memorabilia, a mecca for music lovers, and Resist records, freshly re-located from Newtown. You'll find Sounds Espresso – a music-themed cafe – nestled in among Marrickville's industrial area where more than a few small bars are popping up.

OUTER SUBURBS & BEYOND

Parramatta is often called Sydney's second CBD. You can catch a ferry up there from Circular Quay, or a train from Central. The place has a lot to offer in terms of culture, food, drink and shopping. The crew at Beatdisc can provide you with hot tips on how to spend a day locally. Our regional sisters and brothers are the farthest stores on the map and while not technically Sydney, we are all one big happy family and isn't it great to know that whether you're tripping to the Gong, Thirroul, Blue Mountains, Canberra – our nation's capital – or using the Windsor area as a base, you can have a quality dig out those ways too. And if you're still looking for that elusive platter, our friends at Howl and Moan in Byron Bay might just be the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow. It's a massive drive from Sydney... but remember to pop in for a dig and to say hi next time you venture North.
